

An Introduction To Voiceovers... (Getting Started In Voice Acting)

**Personalized One-on-One Video Conference Class**

Looking for a way to work from home?

Have you always been told "Wow, you have a great voice!" Or maybe you listen to your favorite audiobooks, commercials, or cartoon characters and think, "I could do that!" Then you should explore the fun, rewarding possibilities of the voiceover industry! Discover current trends and how they make it easy and affordable for just about anyone to get involved. You'll learn about different types of voiceovers and tools you'll need to find success. The definition of voiceover is words which are spoken by someone who is not seen. Voice actors, directors, and clients usually work together remotely. You, as the voice actor, record from your home studio while a producer patches in to direct you. So training remotely is a best practice for the real world and provides significantly more applicable training to be prepared for when you are hired and directed remotely. Your instructor, a professional voice actor from Voices For All, will take notes as you read a real script in this one-on-one video chat setting, and offer some coaching to improve your delivery. The Voices For All staff have always worked remotely, and have vast experience both in teaching classes and in leading 1-on-1 coaching sessions. You'll receive a professional voiceover evaluation later. This Introductory class will provide you with the feeling of working remotely right from the start of this exciting new career!
