

Truck Driver Training Program		Program Modality: On Campus
Overview: Lewis & Clark Community College's Truck Driver Training program meets the educational requirements to obtain a Commercial Driver's License (CDL) which is transferable to all states and territories. The Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) sets the minimum standards that States must meet regarding CDLs and Commercial Learner's Permits (CLP), administration of the actual CDL program and issuance of the license itself remains the exclusive function of the States. States may determine the application process, license fee, license renewal cycle, renewal procedures, and reinstatement requirements after a disqualification; provided that the Federal standards and criteria are met. States may exceed the Federal requirements for certain criteria, such as medical, fitness, and other driver qualifications. Students who are interested in working in other states should contact the state board before enrolling in this program. LCCC does not guarantee the active status of links
